Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Applicants' submissions (information disclosure statements) filed on 29 June 2005 and 18 July 2005 have been entered.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-69 and 83-85 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 9, 12, 14-16 of copending Application No. 09/917,199. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the plastic articles having a bearing surface of the claims comprising a polymeric matrix material, a graphitized pitch-based carbon fiber and optionally a second additive are indistinguishable from the thermally conductive polymeric materials claimed in the copending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-19, 37-40 and 83 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Barnes et al (5,001,184).

Barnes et al ["Barnes"] disclose reinforced composite materials having a thermoplastic matrix such as polyetheretherketone and at least 30% by volume of reinforcing filaments, at least 25% by volume being pitch based graphite fibers, also referred to by Barnes as carbon or graphite filaments derived from pitch. The examiner is of the position that independent claim 1 appears to be anticipated; i.e., it is not clear how applicants' graphitized pitch-based carbon fibers differ from the fibers disclosed in Barnes. Although the thermal conductivity value is not given for the carbon fibers of Barnes, the examiner is of the position that since pitch-based carbon fibers are taught by applicants as suitable for the reinforcing fiber component, the thermal conductivity value is the same or similar for the pitch-based graphite fibers taught by Barnes. Likewise, other numerical limitations in the depending claims not set forth in Barnes such as tensile strength, tensile modulus, coefficient of thermal expansion, density, wear factor and coefficient of friction are expected to be the same or similar since the components of the plastic article may be the same.

Conclusion
